NUDUS

Senior Architect (10+ years)

About Nudus

Nudus is a Rotterdam-based practice for architecture, urbanism and interior. We design clear, spatially efficient architecture that responds to everyday use and urban conditions. Our work is purposeful, sustainable by design, and socially engaged — shaped through close collaboration with clients, communities, and specialists.

The role

We are seeking a senior architect who combines strong design judgement with solid project experience. You will take responsibility for projects from early concept through to delivery, working across building and urban scale. The role involves both design leadership and day-to-day project direction.

Key responsibilities

- Develop clear architectural concepts rooted in context and use.

- Lead projects through all design stages.

- Coordinate consultants and internal teams.

- Safeguard design quality, technical coherence and planning.

- Communicate effectively with clients, municipalities and stakeholders.

- Contribute to the ongoing development of our office.

Profile

- Degree in Architecture.

- Minimum of 10 years professional experience.

- Proven experience with complex projects and realised work.

- Strong analytical skills and structured design approach.

- Comfortable taking responsibility and guiding teams.

- Interest in the relationship between architecture, city and society.

Why Join Nudus?

Nudus is a team of around 35 people with diverse professional, cultural and educational backgrounds. We work collaboratively across disciplines and experience levels, with shared responsibility for design quality and project delivery.

Architecture at Nudus is driven by purpose rather than spectacle. Projects are developed with attention to use, construction, material logic and environmental performance, and are embedded in clear urban strategies. You will work in an open studio culture where design quality, curiosity and attention to detail are central to everyday practice.
